Einmal nicht nur töten: World War I Medic

Lernspiel: Over the Top (2004)

No sooner is the battle over than another, more terrifying, sound can be heard: the moans and whimpering of countless men, both Canadian and German, either wounded or dying in the trenches and in No Man's Land. You know that most of them will never be rescued and that, soon after they are dead, the whole area will smell of rotting corpses.
